Sometimes you just need to talk to someone who knows.

The Senior Law Day Collaborative provides access to the knowledge and guidance of more than 150 professionals focused on elder law and related topics, i.e., the concerns of older adults, caregivers, and people with disabilities. The Collaborative's attorneys, financial planners, geriatric care managers, and other specialists deliver free community presentations and brief one-to-one consultations at Collaborative events throughout the year.

You can schedule time with the Collaborative's team members to discuss your specific concerns. There is no cost or obligation. In these brief discussions, our aim is to help you get the information you need to move forward. The types of questions we're asked include:

- What types of documents are required for end-of-life planning?
- Should I use a will or trust? How to avoid probate and minimize taxes?
- How do I pay for long-term care?
- How do I train my home health aide?
- How do I establish a guardianship for an adult child?
- Can you help me think through Medicare or Medicaid?
- When should I begin collecting Social Security income?
- How do I deal with condo ownership or second homes in my will?

You can also ask a specific question using the ASK US button on our website.

You can also gain a deeper knowledge of key topics by attending our live webinars or watching one of the previously delivered sessions. Recent sessions include: Should I Use A Will Or Trust?; Who's Afraid Of Probate?; Legal & Health Concerns For Grandparents Raising Grandchildren; Housing Law And Eviction Prevention.

From our website you can review and download the annual Elder Law Q&A: An Introduction to Aging Issues and Planning for the Future. This publication is a handy companion to our webinars and a core reference on topics from wills and trusts to taxes, SSDI, and health insurance.
